TEXPROCESS PROVIDES SEAMS MEMBERS WITH PROVEN OPPORTUNITY TO GROW THEIR BUSINESSES

Texprocess Americas, the largest and most significant Sewn Products event in the Western Hemisphere, will draw attendees from around the globe to Atlanta, Georgia on April 24 -26, 2012. In addition to being the new home for the former SPESA EXPO, TPA will also run in parallel with the Techtextil North America (technical textiles and nonwovens) show; which also includes the American Textile Machinery Exhibition–International (ATME-I).

SEAMS will position members at the center of this vast opportunity by presenting a special “Supply Chain of the USA - Powered by SEAMS” pavilion. Located near the main entrance, the 2400 SQF attraction will serve as a resource center for a wide range of sewn products retailers, brands, and suppliers in their search for efficient and reliable U.S.-based business partners and products. The unique exhibit will showcase all links in the supply chain, including textiles, manufacturing services, trims, technologies, and other products and services available through participating SEAMS member companies.

Here's what a fellow SEAMS member had to say about our USA Supply Chain Pavilion at SPESA Expo 2010:

“We travel to quite a few shows such as Los Angeles and Las Vegas. Many of the people that came to this show came to see the equipment at the other end of the building. Of course, if they need something to sew on, they also need something to sew.

As a fabric company, we thought SPESA Expo was a very, very successful show. We were able to get face-to-face time in a good, active atmosphere. It was very heartwarming to look down our Supply Chain of the USA Pavilion and see the people that were participating. It was busy all three days. We made some great contacts and solidified some situations. It was a wonderful show -- I'm glad we pursued it.”

Exhibitor Quote...

"We met a customer on the last day of the show that has given us great business to cover all costs of show and more. They also continue to be a great customer for us. It only takes one prospective customer to make the show worth it."

*...Gerald Schwartz of Gerald Schwartz, Inc.
Tucker, GA*

Another Exhibitor Quote...

"We made a lot of contacts. I think we're going to get some good work out of it. I got a call on my cell phone from a man that I didn't even give my number to. He had gone through the trouble to call one of my customers that we share and get my cell phone number so he could contact me, because they're going to place some work with us. This is a perfect example of networking. SPESA Expo was a great show.".....Jim Garner of Creative Outlet, Morehead City, NC

Dues Discount Incentive Program

The SEAMS Dues Discount Incentive Program helps us grow and helps our members! SEAMS Members can earn discounts toward their next dues invoice by signing up new members.

For every NEW MEMBER that a current member signs up, SEAMS will apply a 20% discount to the current member company's next dues invoice, up to 100%. If you sign up five (5) new member companies within one year, you would owe us nothing for your next years' dues!

We encourage members to talk to their colleagues and peers in the sewn products industry to encourage them to join SEAMS. Let us know who you are speaking to, and we will mail them an informational packet that will answer all of their questions. We see this as an on-going membership drive, with the added bonus for current members of reducing their dues.

A Note from President Mike Diemer...

It is difficult to believe that the first two months of 2012 have passed. I suppose that the old adage "time flies when you're having fun" is true. We have been very active in and out of the SEAMS office as we continue to provide more and better services, content, and benefits for our member companies.

Our first task this year was to add a full time office manager who will enable our Executive Director to focus on the exponential increase in inquiries for help and direction from our members and prospective members. In February we hired Jamiel Duffie to start her training. Over the next couple of months she will become fully engaged, just in time for our participation in Texprocess. If you have a chance, please welcome Mel to our very active association team.

Texprocess is fast approaching and 22 SEAMS member companies have taken the opportunity to introduce their company and products to all the show visitors. Rick Ludolph has been very active in preparing copy to maximize our exposure and traffic to both our SEAMS booth and our participating member companies. He will also assist in measuring our results so SEAMS can have a greater impact and greater participation in 2014.

In addition to the above, the board laid out an ambitious agenda for 2012. For that reason, I thought it important that we reconvene the Board for our Spring Meeting in March to review our progress and remove obstacles to our success. One of our outstanding goals for 2012 is to address improvements to our Website. We want to present an even more professional look for our association. Website traffic continues to increase and by providing easier navigation we expect to be able to drive more business to our members.

As a result of your input, we are working toward developing online Textile and Apparel manufacturing training. We see a need for this for our industry and believe we can add value to our association by providing this service. We also anticipate generating additional income for the association which will allow us to provide even more value to our members. We are looking at the feasibility of one day conferences on manufacturing "best practices" as well as Webinars to help make our members aware of cutting edge techniques in our industry.

As you can see, we are aggressively promoting your interests again this year. As always, we appreciate your participation and input as SEAMS continues to grow.

SEAMS Welcomes New Office Manager...

The SEAMS Association is pleased to welcome Jamiel Duffie as our new Office Manager.

"Mel" comes to us from Aiken, SC, with 10 years of varied office experience including Customer Service, Executive Assistant, Marketing Assistant, and Design work. She attended ITT to hone her office skills.

Mel recently relocated from the Jacksonville, FL, area to be closer to her family. She enjoys reading, fishing, camping, and spending time with her family.

WRAP ANNOUNCES 2012 TRAINING SCHEDULE

Worldwide Responsible Accredited Production (WRAP), a leader in compliance certification and auditor training, has announced its 2012 training dates.

WRAP, an independent, global non-profit that certifies facilities engaged in lawful, humane and ethical production, teaches three-day internal auditor and five-day lead auditor courses certified by the International Register of Certified Auditors (IRCA). Additionally, WRAP also conducts fire safety training, monitor refresher and WRAP awareness courses.

WRAP conducts courses all year long and around the world. From monitor refresher courses in Turkey in January, to five-day lead auditor courses in India in April, to a three-day internal auditor course in Shenzhen in December, WRAP staff will teach more than 50 courses worldwide in 2012. Courses are taught in English, Spanish, Chinese and Bengali, depending upon the training location.

Stuart Webster, WRAP's Vice President of Training and Education, oversees implementation of the organization's training programs and also teaches many of the courses. Webster created WRAP's training programs using an accelerated learning style and avoiding lengthy PowerPoint presentations. Accelerated learning utilizes visual, auditory and kinesthetic teaching styles to effectively engage and motivate participants and encourage knowledge acquisition.

Additionally, following a string of factory fires in Bangladesh over the past several years, Webster and the WRAP staff worked together to create a fire safety training program, an interactive course that trains attendees on fire awareness, prevention, evacuation and risk assessment, and culminates in a practical demonstration by local fire fighters. The course, which began in 2011, is taught in Bengali and is offered multiple times across Bangladesh in 2012. Additionally, an English version of the course will be offered in Dubai, Egypt and the United Kingdom this year.

"Thanks to Stuart's efforts and the dedicated work of our staff of trainers, WRAP has developed a solid reputation as the go-to place for social compliance training. We anticipate increasing our training offerings even more in the months and years ahead. The growth we've seen in the training aspects of our program are certainly very gratifying, yet, more importantly, it demonstrates the increasing importance industry stakeholders place on social compliance issues," said WRAP's Director of Compliance Administration Avedis Seferian.

For a full list of WRAP's training programs and information on how to register, please visit the organization's website.

About WRAP

Dedicated to lawful, ethical and humane manufacturing, WRAP is the world's largest facility-based social and environmental compliance certification and training organization. WRAP is headquartered in Arlington, V.A. with offices in Hong Kong and Bangladesh. For more information, please visit www.wrapcompliance.org

Manufacturing Solutions Center Groundbreaking

MSC has been a leading creator of jobs in manufacturing for 22 years. In the past decade they are credited with creating or saving over 1,000 manufacturing jobs, and creating over $250,000,000 in total economic impact worldwide.

The objective of the new facility would include cultivating a new form of manufacturing. Manufacturing that is based in smaller and smarter factories that nourish innovation. The catalyst for the new manufacturing economy is MSC. Two thirds of the net jobs in the private sector originate among small firms or small business births. The smallest segment (1-19 associates) produces the most new jobs relative to its share of total employment.

MSC will become the business accelerator for worldwide product innovation and testing. When companies launch their businesses from this facility, our hope is they will plug into our local communities, use our available industrial properties and employ our skilled and able workforce. MSC provides new and existing companies with low cost testing, research and development, where resources are shared, and capabilities are inventoried to aid companies.

We have been very fortunate both North Carolina and Federal agencies agree with this vision and have stepped forward to partner thru grant funding and make this a reality for North Carolina and our nation. The new MSC facility will sit in the heart of one of the hardest hit regions in the nation. US News and World Report list the area as one of "The 10 Worst Cities for Finding a Job." This is a bold step in the right direction to rebuilding manufacturing for the nation.

FesslerUSA Names New Production Manager

FesslerUSA, an Orwigsburg, Pennsylvania based producer of USA made apparel announced the appointment of Charles Edmonds as its Production Manager and a member of its Executive Committee.

"We are excited to have Chuck Edmonds join the management team at FesslerUSA. This year is pivotal for FesslerUSA as we shift into high gear and move out of the global economic recession," said Bonnie Meck, FesslerUSA's Chief Operating Officer and Chief Sustainability Officer.

"Chuck brings a depth of experience to the team," Bonnie added, "reflecting our commitment to meeting the production needs of our expanding traditional customer base in the fashion and children's markets, as well as our rapidly growing presence in the performance and technical markets."

Mr. Edmonds has a strong manufacturing and performance fabrics background, including 7 years at Performance Sports Apparel in Reading, Pennsylvania where he served in production and product development management and 21 years at J. E. Morgan Knitting Mills where he held a number of engineering and production positions. Morgan, of course, was a pioneer in thermal and baselayer garments since 1916, having developed and sold the famous Duofold® brand garments. Also, Chuck was a proud member of the 82nd Airborne division of the United States Army.

Walter Meck, FesslerUSA's CEO said "The past few years have been a real challenge for many apparel manufacturers. The key to FesslerUSA's future has been our ability to adapt to changes in the retail markets and shifts in retail sourcing strategies. Our small-lot, quick-turn, vertical full-package strategy has perfectly positioned us for this emerging new economy."

FesslerUSA is a leading producer of exclusively "Made in The USA" quality knit fabrics and apparel, providing design and vertical production services to a number of markets including fashion contemporary, women's, men's, infants and children's, as well as some technical and outdoor markets including performance, baselayer and activewear. Continuously operating and employing Americans for over 112 years, its products are made in Pennsylvania and shipped globally. More information on FesslerUSA can be found at www.FesslerUSA.com.

AEC Narrow Fabrics Strengthens Dyeing and Finishing Capabilities to Serve Expanding Markets

AEC Narrow Fabrics has announced the hiring of Jake Welch as its new Technical Manager for Dyeing and Finishing, and Greg Edwards as its new Finishing Manager. Both men have valuable expertise in the narrow fabrics industry and collectively they add more than 50 years of experience to the AEC team.

Jake Welch will join AEC's Research and Development Department and split his time between AEC's North Carolina manufacturing operations and those in El Salvador in Central America. Welch will provide technical direction for dyeing and finishing initiatives in both areas and work closely with Greg Edwards in the Asheboro area plants. His previous dyeing and finishing positions were with Georgia Narrow Fabrics and Premier Narrow Fabrics, and they included extensive work in Honduras. Most recently, Jake Welch was the Director of Raw Materials for Cupid Foundations.

Greg Edwards was previously with S.C. Elastic, a major supplier of elastic to the United States Government. His comprehensive experiences in managing dyeing and finishing processes, including meeting requirements for the U.S. Military, add depth to AEC's ability to provide precise dyeing and specialized finishing for its many markets.

"We are fortunate to have Jake and Greg join us at AEC," commented Robert Lawson, President of AEC Narrow Fabrics. "As we continue to expand our product offerings in the diverse markets we serve, precision dyeing and finishing are important parts of the high quality for which we are known. Adding these new members to our team helps us ensure consistent and excellent results in our U.S. and Central American operations. The experience they bring to AEC will greatly improve our ability to meet our customers' increasingly demanding requirements."

AEC Narrow Fabrics is a privately-held, narrow fabrics manufacturer with its headquarters in Asheboro, NC, manufacturing in Asheboro and Central America and worldwide distribution. Its products are used in the apparel, automotive, home furnishings, bedding, medical, military & first responder and recreational industries.

More information about AEC can be found at www.asheboroelastics.com.

OUR MISSION

The mission of the SEAMS Association is to support the resurging US sewn products industry through membership networking and collaboration; by offering benefits packages that help control overhead expenses; through access to educational programs to help improve the quality and productivity of the US sewn products industry collectively, and of our member firms individually; and by keeping our members informed about legislation in Washington, DC that impacts our industry.

The SEAMS Association is a not-for-profit organization comprised of manufacturing and contract manufacturing companies in the sewn products industry. SEAMS supplier member companies provide valuable products, services, and support to the sewn products industry. SEAMS member companies are located throughout the United States. Membership in the SEAMS Association is one way to enhance your company's continued growth and success. The US sewn products industry faces many challenges, and one of the best ways to promote our industry's interests is to join forces with business colleagues in the SEAMS Association.

The SEAMS Association is dedicated to promoting a business climate which will enhance and support the retention of sound economic growth throughout the entire United States.
